thee; Tho' there are 'round you moun- tains of night, Bend to your oar and past; Day with it's glo- ry fol- lows the night, Hap- py the soul who steer for the light!

steer for the light!
steered for the light!

Clear-er than noon-day, shines o'er the wave, Strong is our Cap- tain, might- y to save;" Fade- less and sure, e'er to en- dure, Pure beams of glo- ry, pierc- ing the night, Then, strug- gling sea- man, steer for the light!
