

There Is Rest By and By

W. F. Cosner

Charles Edward Pollock, b. 1853

mel. 1 2

1.) Of - ten wea - ry and worn on the path - way be - low, When the 2.) You will not la - bor long for the Mas - ter be - low, Soon His 3.) Then, dear Sa - viour, I would not in sad - ness re - pine, Nor would

3 4 5 6

bur - den is hea - vy, my heart throbs with woe; Oh, there comes a sweet whis - per to call you will hear, your free spir - it shall go; To the light of His pre - sence in here on a bed of sweet ro - ses re - cline; For a coun - try I seek where they

Where the ran - somed shall live with the 7 8

quell ev - 'ry sigh, "Do not faint 'neath the load, there is man - sions on high, Where the in faith - ful re - pose, there is ne - ver - more die, And the in Zi - on, my Home, there is Sav - iour on high, In the beau - ti - ful ci - ty there is

9 Fine 10 11

rest by and by." There is rest by and rest by and by. There is rest by and by, There is rest by and by.

12 13 14 D.S. al Fine

by, In the beau - ti - ful ci - ty there is rest by and by.
 rest by and by